

STAT

THE NEW YORK TIMES, THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1966.

L+

U.S. TO REACTIVATE
11 TANKERS FOR WAR

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—To meet urgent electrical needs in Vietnam, the Army is reactivating 11 World War II oil tankers for conversion into floating power plants.

Each ship, drawing on its own 150,000-barrel oil capacity, will be able to produce power continuously for about two years without refueling, the Army said.

The 11 T2 petroleum cargo ships are expected to be on station in Vietnam before the end of September.

Each tanker is fitted with an electrical turbine to drive a large motor that, in turn, drives the propeller. The Army's plan is to divert this power from the propeller motor for use on land.

After the ships are moved to Vietnam, they will be tied in with local power systems in five areas.

Fulbright Defers Reporting Of Measure on C.I.A. Panel

Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, June 22 — Senator J. W. Fulbright, Democrat of Arkansas who is chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, postponed today the reporting of a bill that would put three members from his panel on the committee supervising activities of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Senator Mike Mansfield of Montana, the majority leader, said yesterday that the bill and the committee report would be filed today. This timetable had apparently not been cleared with all interested parties.

Mr. Mansfield said he still expected the bill to be reported in time for floor action the second week of July.

U.S. FINDS NO SHIFT IN HANOI'S POLICIES

Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, June 22 — The State Department in effect confirmed today reports that North Vietnam was still asking for an end to all bombing of its territory as a condition for peace talks or gestures of any kind.

The State Department issued a brief comment shortly after it had heard an account of conversations that took place in Hanoi recently between Chester Ronning, a special Canadian envoy and former Ambassador to China and India, and Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh of North Vietnam. The essence of the comment was that no change had taken place in Hanoi's position.

Mr. Ronning was said to have given a briefing in Ottawa yesterday to William P. Bundy, Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs. Mr. Bundy returned to Washington this morning and reported to Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

"So far as we are aware," the department's spokesman said afterward, "Hanoi's attitude continues to be that expressed last Jan. 24. We have not seen any change in this position."

That position, expressed during the temporary pause in the bombing of North Vietnam, was that the bombing must end "unconditionally and permanently" if Hanoi was to take American peace overtures seriously.

Some French Aides Quit NATO

Special to The New York Times

PARIS, June 22—Some French military personnel attached to the North Atlantic Command have begun leaving their jobs, it was reported today. All 1,300 French are scheduled to be detached by July 1.

The New York Times (by Patrick A. Burns) of the New York State unit, addresses delegates assembly convention of the Communist Party, U.S.A., since 1959.

The Cut-away . . .
Bonwit's own
matte jersey blouse

Cut out to bare
the shoulders, covered to the throat

BONWIT TELLER IS NOW OPEN EVERY THURSDAY
IN NEW YORK
UNTIL 8 P.M.
IN MANHASSET
WHITE PLAINS
SHORT HILLS
UNTIL 9:00

FIFTH AVE. & 57th ST. • NEW
San Francisco • Beverly Hills • H.

